EBMT UK NAP GROUP UPDATE AUGUST 2025

We are the United Kingdom EBMT NAP (nurses and allied health professionals) group

ANNUAL EDUCATION DAY

We have had a busy few months, planning and organising an exciting agenda for our annual education meeting in October. The meeting will be held in Birmingham and focus on themes and topics presented at the EBMT conference in Florence. This gives colleagues who were unable to attend the Florence conference an opportunity to hear the excellent presentations and updates on current treatments and research. Topics include nutritional complications of GVHD, psychology (identifying the new normal) and veno-occlusive disease case study amongst other exciting presentations, including a patient speaker. Last year, we invited several UK colleagues who presented posters at EBMT to deliver a bite size session on their poster at our study day. This was very well received and consequently we have selected a few posters from this years main EBMT conference to be presented at our meeting. This gives an opportunity for the posters to be shared and an opportunity for attendees to ask questions and consider projects they can undertake in their own work place. It is a great opportunity to celebrate the projects, research and changes in practice undertaken in our UK transplant centres.

WEBSITE UPDATE

Our website has had an overhaul and became live in August 2025. This project has been led by two of our committee members and the website has been redeveloped. New features included a membership area and also pages for our specific sub groups. This gives an opportunity for the various subgroups to upload their own educational material for their speciality groups although it can be accessed by the wider members. Subgroup pages include dietetics, occupational and physiotherapy, apheresis, CART and paediatrics.

SUBGROUPS

We have several speciality subgroups affiliated to our EBMT group. The subgroups give an opportunity to network with other colleagues working within a specific speciality and promotes a space to share practice and educational material. The aim is to facilitate good working partnerships with our peers across the UK. Subgroups developed so far: CART, Apheresis, Physio & Occupational Therapy, Paediatrics, Dietetics, and Education.

SPONSORSHIPS

We were able to sponsor eleven UK nurses and AHP's with bursaries to attend the EBMT Conference in Florence. This gave delegates an opportunity to attend the conference and benefit from the networking opportunity. Many of those sponsored were attending the conference to present their work such as posters. We will be offering sponsorship again next year.
